Painting Worry Monsters

Developing an understanding of our own feelings through stories such as 'The Huge Bag of Worries.'

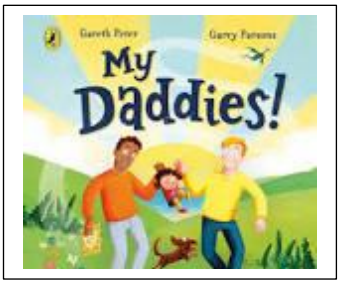

We learn to collaborate and show an understanding of others.

During Remembrance week, we read 'Where the Poppies Now Grow' and learn to think of others. We make poppies and set up our own Poppy Appeal.

We visit the elderly residents at Sidney Brown Court and sometimes we sing to them.

We learn about family set-ups by reading books such as 'My Daddies.'

We explore our feelings and what it does physically to our bodies by reading stories such as 'The Colour Monster.'

We learn to work and play cooperatively.

We are learning to wait our turn.

We form positive relationships with our peers.

We work towards goals and persevere in the face of challenge.
